

ViMi4: First Circular

Dear friends and colleagues,

Happy New Year! We would like to warmly invite you to join us for the fourth Virtual Micromorphology Meeting (ViMi4) which will take place on the afternoons of Wednesday and Thursday the 26th and 27th of April 2023 (UCT+1).

You can register via this Zoom link and fill out the form to let us know what your interests are and what you would like to bring to the workshop. Proposals for break-out room topics or live microscopy sessions can be sent to vimimeeting4faro@gmail.com until the 1st of March. We will try to accommodate as many different interests and contributions as possible!

ViMi4 will follow the ViMi-tradition: an informal meeting with live microscopy sessions and different breakout rooms where you can show photomicrographs, discuss features, and get feedback from other participants. We will kick-off with a keynote speech and students from undergraduate to PhD level are invited to send in their most interesting photomicrograph for the ViMi4 Photomicrograph Prize (follow the link for more information). We also created a new “What is this??” Google Group (follow the link to register) where you can ask questions to the other participants about the things you find in your thin sections or discuss other archaeological micromorphology-related topics.

All this information and future updates can be found on the ViMi4 website. More information about the program will also be sent in a second circular. If you have any questions, do not hesitate to contact us at vimimeeting4faro@gmail.com.

We are looking forward to another fantastic online workshop with great topics on archaeological soil micromorphology!

Please feel free to circulate this information to any colleagues or students to whom you think this event would be of interest.

Best wishes,

the Organizing Committee of ViMi4 from ICArEHB in Faro, Portugal.

Flora Schilt, Vera Aldeias, Carlos Simões, Chase Murphree, Miguel Soares, Alvise Barbieri, and Pedro Coxito.
